Called North East Inheritance, the exhibition looks at a broad selection of wills and inventories and other probate records of persons who lived in Durham and Northumberland between 1526 and 1858. The exhibition marks the completion of the cataloguing phase of the NEI project. This catalogue has been created with HLF and Durham University funding, and with the collaboration of the Genealogical Society of Utah as well as of a dedicated team of local volunteers. The catalogue will go online in 2010, providing free access to 150,000 document images relating to some 75,000 persons. More information on the scope and progress of the project can be found at <http://familyrecords.dur.ac.uk/nei/>. The exhibition provides a brief guide to the different types of probate record found in the Durham Diocesan collection, with additional guides and examples on using probate records to research family and local history. Other topics presented are: Plague; Northeasterners Abroad; Enemies Foreign and Domestic; Death, Dying and Disposal; The Wreck of the ship Palermo; Literacy and Education; Trade and Industry; Health and Medicine.

The exhibition will be held at Palace Green Library, Durham University Library, Palace Green, Durham, DH1 3RN, on Monday 21st September to Friday 16th October, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Entry to the exhibition is FREE. For more information contact North East Inheritance on telephone 0191 334 2972, email: family.records@dur.ac.uk or visit <http://familyrecords.dur.ac.uk/nei/>.
